About GCLI

The Gretchen Carlson Leadership Initiative is an AIT educational program, funded by the Gretchen Carlson Gift of Courage, that aims to bring women's civic leadership training to thousands of underserved women across the country, with a special focus on empowering survivors of gender-based violence, discrimination, and harassment. The program has three main goals:

Teach women across the country how government works and provide them with the tools, resources and tactics to influence political change on the issues they care about most.

Help women connect to their power as citizen advocates, highlighting the importance of their voices and leadership in the civic arena and prioritizing the issues on which they want to take action.

Empower and inspire women to take action and become leaders of change in their communities—and beyond.

About All In Together

All In Together (AIT) equips voting-age American women with action-oriented, nonpartisan civic education to realize their full potential as leaders shaping our nation. AIT is the only nonpartisan women's organization committed to delivering cross-sector, innovative solutions to advance women's leadership potential in their communities, their companies, and the nation.
